Evan Hadley, administrator of said Estate, respectfully shows to the Court, that among the assets of said Estate are seventeen (17) fat hogs, that are now ready for market. That said hogs can be sold to better advantage at private than at public sale, That said
hogs are of a probable value of $852.00.

He believes that he can realize more from said hogs by hiring them hauled to the

He therefore asks for an order of the Court

In the matter of the estate of <sup>1</sup>

Joseph G. Hayworth, deceased. <sup>1</sup>

Evan Hadley, administrator, of the estate of said decedent respectfully represents to the Hendricks Circuit Court, that there came into his hands as such administrator, as a part of the assets belonging to the estate of said decedent, one note executed by Samuel H. Hayworth to said decedent on the 10th day of April 1896 for $683, bearing 7% interest from date, payable in two years from date, interest payable annually, and with 10% attorneys fees payable at the "First National Bank, Danville Indiana" without relief from valuation laws, and to secure the payment of which, said Samuel H. Hayworth on the 10th day of April 1896 executed his mortgage on the South half of the South East quarter of Section sixteen 16 Township fifteen 15 North of Range two & West, subject to a mortgage then on said land for $1200.00

Your petitioner further shows to the Court that said real estate is not now, as he believes, of sufficient value to pay off and satisfy both of said mortgages should they be foreclosed:

that said mortgagor is now a householder and is worth less than $600., and that were said note now due, he does not believe any portion of it could be collected from said mortgagor, out of his personal property, and that the Estate of said Joseph G. Hayworth is in the judgment of your petitioner insolvent and there is nothing belonging to said estate out of which said senior mortgage could be paid to protect the lien of his said mortgage.

That said note and mortgage were appraised as assets of said estate at $200.00

That he believes it to be to the best interests of said estate that said note and mortgage be sold at private sale.

He therefore asks for such order in the premises as the Court in his judgment shall deem best.
