The claim of Preston Cunningham as admin-of the estate of Charles Henry degt-vs. William H. Andrews was settled as follows. The claim consisted of an advance of money by Tony to Andrews on an agreement to go into partnership in selling liquor but which was never carried further by the parties than an advance of $200, by Tony to Andrews & which was after received by the parties and regarded as a loan, and afterwards $127 repaid by Andrews for which he took Tony's receipt. This was what we understood would turn out in the evidence of the case. So we took up the receipt, calculated and ~~on~~ ~~up~~ up to date of settlement. Paid the balance and on the claim which was $80.73.

And I returned $10.00 to me for my fees as atty in the case. We were well satisfied that that was the best that could be done, believing the payment by Andrews to be a valid set off or
