

Front row: Left to right: Robert Mahan, Tracy Hadley, George Patton, Stanley Terhune, Paul Prather.

Second row: Katherine Roberts, Frances Dutton, Marian Bothwell, Dolores Scheidler, Martha Moore, Alice Forbes, Katherine Stiles.

Third row: Austin Williams, Merrill Frounfelter, William St. John, Luford McDaniel, Edward Devore, Emmett Maxwell.

Collegiates

Martinsville High School's greatest adventure this year is the adoption of the freshman college courses in math, history, German, and English. These classes are taught by Miss Rose, Mr. Scheidler, Miss Hart, and Mr. Gantz, respectively.

We all like to see the former graduates come back and help adorn the halls through which they passed so many times in years before.

At the first of the year Mr. Gantz was selected as sponsor of the class.

The first semester the class held an invitation party in the old gym. Mr. Gantz who is also quite a musician furnished some special piano numbers which were greatly enjoyed by those present.

At the end of the first semester, the class took their examinations at Indiana University, where they made an unusually good showing. This is a compliment to the teachers as well as the members of the class.

Gantz, Williams, Inc.

Room 14, with Mr. Williams as teacher includes both seniors and sophomores. Since Mr. Williams has to be in the office part of the time, the room elected Kenneth Watson to take charge on such occasions.

At the first of the year in a series of "get acquainted" meetings, each person told his name and gave a brief summary of his life. In another series of meetings, various persons told of their most thrilling experience, which also proved interesting.

At the beginning of the year the following officers were chosen to serve for Room 13: president, "Bill" Smith, and vice-president, Rawlins Tousey.

During the first semester practically all the home room periods were taken care of by Mr. Gantz. However, during the second semester, the home room period has been entirely in charge of the students.

Front row: Left to right: Harold Frounfelter, Archie Williams, Eugene Williams, Wayne Kivett, John Bolin, Robert Terhune, Charles Groce.

Second row: Dorothy Williams, Leone Sykes, Frances Williamson, Kathleen Walsh, Virginia Whitaker, Bonnie Winkler, Bonnie Tackitt, Monzelle Whitaker, Mr. Gantz.

Third row: Mr. Williams, Forest Walker, Ralph Tedrow, Lane Winter, Ernest Strader, Helen Williams, Lucy Doyle.

Fourth row: Rawlins Tousey, Horace Willan, John Walters, Wayne Smith, Marvin Pauly.

Wayne Kivett Robert Terhune

Front row: Left to right: Miss Ossenbergs, Lois Martin, June Goss, Wilma Stroop, Marie Johnson, Marguerite Martin, Gladys Gray.

Second row: Ethel Gray, Martha Henderson, Maxine Guynn, Merle Maxwell, Wallace Kelly, Catherine Lester.

Third row: Floy Hodges, Fred Griffith, Jay Martin, Dallas Johnson, John Hinson, Josie Ham.

Fourth row: William Miller, Walter Kent, Luther Gray, Warren McDaniel, Wayne Hamilton, John D. Johnston.

Ossenbergs' Observers

The home room of Miss Ossenbergs elected the following officers, October 16, 1933: president, Gladys Gray; vice-president, John Johnston; secretary, Maxine Guynn; attendance officer, Floy Hodges; Artesian Herald distributor, John Johnston; class representative, John Johnston.

The room began its meetings October 24 with Gladys telling each one to think over his chief interest or hobby and tell about it the following morning.

A program committee met and composed programs to last several mornings.

The room has discussed home room organization from every angle.

A study of current events for one or two mornings proved very interesting. Questions of general information (borrowed from Miss Hart) were then taken up.

Fred Griffith is our representative to the Student Council.

Gemmecke's Guessers

After all, the real purpose of the home room is to set the pace for the entire day. If the programs which are presented in the morning must be "pulled" from students or conducted by the teacher alone, no worthwhile value is obtained. On the other hand, a home room should be a bit different from the ordinary class group. In room 32 they have tried to eliminate all attempts at "artificial" programs and to conduct the room in as natural and spontaneous a way as possible.

The family is composed of members of the hopefuls of '35. Besides the class president, Verl Beasley, and the other class workers, they have also "given the school" real basketball artists, dramatic stars, a musician or two, and a fine group of boosters. The representative on the Student Council, Albert Allen, has done his share in encouraging good citizenship about the school.

Front row: Left to right: Catherine Flynn, Mary Anna Collier, Elizabeth Bailey, Louise Burleigh, Dorothy Arthur, Mildred Dalby, Bonnie Fowler, Virginia Bryan, Jean Goss.

Second row: Mr. Gemmecke, Charles Ennis, Dale Anderson, Bernard Elliot, Verl Beasley, Don Anderson, Norman Crone, Leroy Garrison, Tom Dillon.

Third row: Earl Curtis, Joe Goss, Charles Champlin, Albert Allen, Maurice Cobb, Earl Ferguson, Jessie Day.

Front row: Left to right: Edith Shireman, Betty Sandy, Violet Hodges, Thelma Stewart, Wilma Crook, Bernice Thacker, Delphine Walls, Fayele Sipes, Mary Kivett, Frances Lewis.

Second row: Lavon Salters, Mary Elizabeth Scott, Max Wiggins, Jack Preston, John Weaver, Fern Watson, Mary Lou Whaley, Frances Bailey, Helen Williams, Mrs. Boldrey.

Third row: Robert Tackitt, John Sichting, Forest Stout, Byron Sykes, Hugh Williams, Charles Stewart, Byron Wilson, Betty Jane Townsend.

Boldrey's Boosters

The personnel of room 26 includes both freshmen and sevens, plus a lively family of goldfish.

The officers are: president, Hugh Williams; secretary, Byron Sykes; treasurer, Violet Hodges; Student Council representative, Betty Sandy.

The Health Committee encourages cleanliness and neat grooming.

The Scholarship Committee is composed of honor students, who list the grades of the pupils and note the rise and fall.

The Housekeeping Committee has charge of the appearance of the room.

The Program Committee plans the programs for special occasions and parties.

The Bulletin Board Committee keeps pictures on the bulletin board.

This room had parties at Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Valentine's Day.

Prewitt's Pets

Room 16 was organized in September with Merrill Percy as president. In a series of "get acquainted" mornings we learned that Ralph Smith and Garnet Sheeks represent the largest families, Ralph being one of twelve children, all living—Garnett, one of eleven.

An inventory of "things I most dislike" disclosed some interesting personal prejudices—such as certain girls' antipathy to curly permanents, fat men, big ears, parsnips, and flat tires; certain boys' dislike of red finger nails, buttons off clothes, girls who talk too much, and carrots.

Our "Who's Who" boasts of an artist, Thelma Morrison, a poet, Eugene Poppino, and a scholar, Robert Rusie.

At Christmas time we sent baskets of food, toys, and clothing to a needy mother and her five children.

Front row: Left to right: Mrs. Prewitt, Lucille Quakenbush, Inez Rawlins, Evelyn Ratcliff, June Smith, Lucille Rariden, Pauline Parker, Dorothy Newburn, Wilma Savage, Garnet Sheeks.

Second row: Pearl Smith, Thelma Morrison, Ruth Neal, Eugene Poppino, Ralph Powell, Ralph Robinson, Merrill Percy, Bernardine Shuler.

Third row: Maurice Rawlins, Herschel Shireman, Robert Rusie, Clarence Schatzley, Ralph Smith, Stanley Poleckna, Francis Shane.

Bob Elmore '36'
Leona Holder '36'
Zella Wininger '36'

Front row: Left to right: Ross Bennett, Herbert Chambers, Parnell Baker, Dale Morey, Tom Cravens, Wilma Tabb, John Finchum, Herman England.

Second row: Frances Burns, Frances Gillaspie, Mildred Anderson, Bertha Baker, Jean Beck, Norma Ennis, Eileen Cunningham, Mildred Atkinson.

Third row: Leon Brown, Mildred Johnson, Helen Goss, Leona Holder, Evelyn James, Maude Ellis, Helen Stewart, Zella Wininger.

Fourth row: Luther Curtis, Francis Ennis, Bob Elmore, Charles Clawson, Carl Dilley, Bill Adkins.

Rose's Ramblers

The sophomore class of 1933-34 organized in September. At this meeting the following class officers were chosen: Eileen Cunningham, president; Phil Powell, vice-president; Carola Scheidler, secretary-treasurer.

The first party, a "kid party", took place on a Friday evening in the fall. Who would ever think that sophisticated sophomores would lose their dignity for an evening's entertainment? The girls came attired in short print dresses, wearing anklets and hair ribbons, while the majority of that bashful set of boys appeared in overalls and straw hats.

In the early part of the evening, dancing in the old gym, where Mrs. Hazel M. Kelso and the Special Orchestra rendered a number of popular hits of the week, was enjoyed by all. In the latter part of the evening, games such as "Miller Boy", "Drop the Handkerchief", "Three Old Maids", etc. were enjoyed. The refreshments were delightful as they consisted of oranges, in which a stick of candy was placed, through which to suck the juice, and good old eskimo pies. A few parents of the sophomore students were kind enough to be chaperons.

Without the aid and guidance of our very efficient class sponsors, Mrs. Lida Prewitt and Mr. Robert Colvin, the party would never have been a success. At the close of this, our first party, all the sophomore "kids" agreed that it had been a jolly evening and hoped that their second party would be just as happy an event.

The representatives on the Student Council, who received their positions by popular vote of the class are Eileen Cunningham, Pauline Pearcy, Parnell Baker, and Harry Terhune.

The 1933-34 sophomore class has achieved success in a number of worthwhile scholastic activities.

Ralph Finchum

Front row: Left to right: Elinor Gray, Blanche Landrum, Betty Lewis, Lillian Johnson, Mildred Kinney, Bob Goss, Leonard Fogleman, Otis Griffith.

Second row: Frieda Ratcliff, Josephine Mosier, Opal Lemons, Virginia Cox, Josephine Jones, Allene Lighter, Charline Hancock.

Third row: Eugene Jones, Melvin Farr, Eugene Goss, Harry Terhune, Jack Gray, James Griffin, Bernard Ewing.

Fourth row: Courtland James, Eugene Fields, Lawrence Kirk, Floyd Hacker, Ernest Savage, Victor Kent.

Lillian Johnson '35'
Zella '35'

Front row: Left to right: Austin Wratten, Revell Hammons, Richard Teeters, Earl Russell, Richard Goss, Eugene Stevens, Phil Powell, Marvin Hine, Mildred Rogers, Mary Wright.

Second row: Rosemary Unversaw, Katherine Woods, Clarabelle Townsend, Mary Prather, Lois Robinson, Jane Schoonover, Doris Wright, Elizabeth Rowland.

Third row: Louise Tumey, Mildred Percy, Evelyn Stierwalt, Emma Frances Perry, Shireman Wampler, Robert Wampler, Geraldine Walls, Julia Neal, Carola Scheidler.

Fourth row: Vivian Phelps, Paul Neal, Earl Reeves, Paul Young, Allan Willan, Phil Harris.

The first of these in which the sophomores participated was the local Latin contest of the Caesar students under Miss Mae Kivett. Opal Lemons won first place and Kathleen Collier won second. Parnell Baker and Eileen Cunningham tied for third honors. Opal and Kathleen were advanced to the County contest where they again won first and second place respectively.

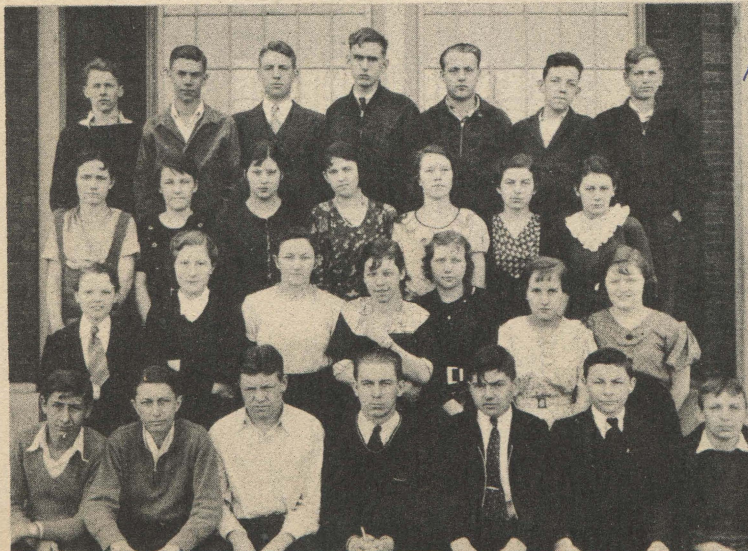

In the local geometry contest held in the Junior Assembly March 1, under the direction of Miss Margaret Rose, geometry instructor, Pauline Percy won first place, Opal Lemons, second place, and Harry Terhune, third place.

As Opal Lemons could not participate in the geometry contest since she was already in the Latin contest, Harry Terhune took second place.

Last year in the algebra contest Pauline Percy placed seventh and Opal Lemons placed eighth in the state contest.

In a nation wide contest conducted by the Fidac organization—an international organization for the promotion of world peace—Harry Terhune's essay on "Peace With Security" was awarded first place in the local, district, and state contests. Louise Tumey won second place in the local and third in the district. Imogene Nealy placed third in the local contest.

Sophomores have participated not only in intellectual activities, but also in the athletic program of the school. Although they did not have a representative on the first team, several members of the class were found on the second and third teams and will be valuable members of the squad next year. The names of the following boys are found on Coach Curtis' list of sophomores out for spring practice: Reeves, Selch, Fields, Neal, Kent, Farr, Hacker, Myers, Gray, Mahan, Willan, Young, Norman, and Wampler.

Kathleen Collier "Sweetheart"
Parnell Baker

Front row: Left to right: Leon Knoy, Frank Nix, Wesley Latimer, Wayne Parker, Ralph Meredith, Richard McDaniel, Richard Norman.

Second row: Laura F. Tousey, Genevieve Ratts, Ruth Parker, Helen Schoolcraft, Dorothy Payton, Dorothy Soots, Pauline Percy.

Third row: Zoe Kirk, Gail Quackenbush, Glenna Musgrave, Maxine Koons, Bernice Owens, Bertha Smith, Kathleen Collier.

Fourth row: George Isenhower, James Murphy, Mary Myers, John Mahan, Ralph Lowe, Glen Rankins, Noble Martin.

Hoch's Helpers

The freshman class of 1934 is made up of over one hundred and fifty jolly members, and is housed in rooms 24 and 26. The class was organized at the first of the year. The officers are as follows: Max Johnston, president; Helen Percy, vice-president; Maxine Johnston, secretary-treasurer. The class sponsors are Mrs. Whitaker and Mr. Smith. The freshman class has tried several times to have a class party. A certain date was set but a conflicting date with another event caused the party to be dropped.

It is one duty of the freshman class to send flowers to any home where there is bereavement.

Due to the overflow of students, it was necessary to place some of the students in room 26. Some of the drawing power of Martinsville High School can be shown by the fact that two out of five in the freshman class are transferred from districts outside the city limits. It is interesting to notice how quickly these students become accustomed to the local conditions. Many of them take their places among our leaders and are honor students during the rest of their high school career. Some of this prestige is due to the influence of Mr. Hochstetler who is in charge of room 24. The freshmen students in this room have spent their morning periods in various ways. Since such a short time is available each morning for discussion only short topics may be given.

At the beginning of this year Mr. Hochstetler assigned World's Fair talks. These consisted of descriptions of the most interesting place visited by the student giving the talk. They included the Belgian Village, The Planetarium, and the Hall of Science.

Later a group of poems by James Whitcomb Riley was read by students in the class. This group was composed of "The Raggedy Man". "When the Frost is on Front row: left to right: Robert Owen, Dale Kirk, Max Johnston, Marion Cramer, Maurice Bothwell, Forest Hancock, Harry Hancock.

Second row: Mary C. Kirk, Helen Percy, Betty Hardwick, Lucy Dunn, Geneva Cox, Bonita Lehr, Gleeda Kincaid, Lavonne McDaniel.

Third row: Milred Lehr, Florence Lisby, Pauline Lewis, Rosemary Lea, Violet Major, Lucille Daily, Hoover Long.

Fourth row: Charles McFarland, Gilbert Knoy, Edward Allen, Maurice Self, James Fowler, Harold Lafoon, Maurice Kitchen, Robert Parker.

*Geneva Cox
"37"*

Front row: Left to right: Jimmie Eggers, Kenneth Glover, Paul Gray, Eugene Jenkins, William Houston, Rex Fleener, Noyles James, Teddy Fletcher.

Second row: Katherine Houston, Marguerite Greenwood, Clarissa Fields, Pauline Piercefield, Wanda Jackson, Geneva Hughes, Vivian Garrison, Edith Elliott, Helen Johnson.

Third row: Mildred Hine, Norma Gainey, Bertha Goss, Martha O'Neal, Mary Louise Francesconi, Georgann Shufflebarger, Frances Gray.

Row four: Leon Platt, Harold Hacker, Spencer Kauffman, Floyd Griffith, Jim Huff, Billy James, Eugene Jordon.

the Pumpkin," "Nine Little Goblins," and the "Bear Story."

Each holiday which appeared during the year was observed. Short talks were given concerning its historical background and its relationship and significance to the present day problems.

When it was necessary a short talk was given on the behavior of the students at the basketball games and at the assembly programs.

The class was also inspected about every two weeks on the care of their finger nails and hands.

The freshman class is represented in many clubs and has received many honors in various activities. There are a large number of students in the band, orchestra, glee clubs, Latin club and 4-H club. There are also two members that competed in the Math District Contest in Bloomington, Eugene Jordan and Mildred Hine. Those who received honorable mention were; Helen Percy, James Huff, and Hugh Williams. In the Latin Contest the freshmen were unable to compete because Miss Hart makes out the questions for that division. Four members are playing on the basketball squad, Ralph Holler, Bill Cramer, Maurice Self, and Hugh Williams.

The freshman class has been fortunate in having twelve or more students on the Honor Roll each time. To encourage better work a list is posted in the Junior Assembly of those students making the High Honor Roll and the Honor Roll. Another list is posted of the three students that have the highest average each semester. This custom has been followed for many years. It is interesting to note that these same students repeat year after year their high type of work. The students also that receive scholarships at commencement may be found on the Honor Roll list on the Junior Assembly bulletin board.

Front row: Left to right: Joe Sadler, Robert Miller, Bob Martin, Clark Payton, Bob Miller, Lloyd Maxwell, Eugene Nickols, Theodore O'Neal.

Second row: Eula Harris, Madge Dillinder, Lillian Moore, Evelyn Oburn, Maxine Johnston, Betty Rankin, Hazel Routier, Mamie Messmer, Jaunita Baugh, Mr. Hochstetler.

Third row: Beulah Harris, Edith Lipp, Katherine Arthur, Helen Rose, Ruth Richardson, Pauline Robinson, Audrey Richardson.

Fourth row: George Collett, Sidney Richardson, Eugene Hadley, William Silvey, Mary Ricks, Bernice Thacker, Evelyn Russell.

Dorsett's Doers

Home room 29 was organized early in the school year. Every student was encouraged to participate in democratic thinking, feeling, and action. Twenty-nine "live wires" immediately lifted Rosemary Hendricks, Richard Hanna, Juanita Goss, and Ward Hammons to the high office of president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively. The president was given power to appoint fellow students to Health, Attendance, Scholarship, House Cleaning, Program, and Bulletin Board Committees; and to name such other committees as from time to time popular will desired. Every student "belonged" to something. "Inspiration and Perspiration" became the guiding motto.

Home room 29 is a "home" room and welcomes the Student Council as a means whereby pupil participation in school government may be carried to broader fields.

Richard Hanna, Bob Watson, Paul Galbreath, and De Fawn Goodwin now hold the above offices, in order of rank.

First row: Left to right: Cedric Brown, John Baker, Lester Collier, Charles Doyle, Robert Allen, Robert Carter, Robert Ayers.

Second row: Rosemary Cooley, Ilene Amos, Doris Brown, Hazel Dilly, Florence Clarkson, Maxine Buchanan, Mary Catherine Avery, Bobby Dixon, Mr. Smith.

Third row: Mary Irene Bader, Barbara Abberdine, Euphema Dobbs, Mary Reynolds, Ruth Douglas, Constance Dillender, Mary Belle Coyle.

Fourth row: Irma Duncan, Beatrice Durham, Ruby Blunk, Dorothy Brown, Ola Crismore, Irvin Dillon.

Front row: Left to right: Ward Hammons, Bob Watson, Paul Galbreath, Dale Edwards, Paul Boardman, Warren Grounds, Theodore Ennis.

Second row: Katherine Hamilton, Juanita Kelly, Virginia Galbreath, Dolie Hogan, Louise Grag, Norma Holloway, Josephine Ferran, Mr. Dorsett.

Third row: Mary Frances Ellis, De Fawn Goodwin, Irene Fox, Agnes Forbes, Rosemary Hendricks, Elizabeth Ferguson, Margaret Gillespie.

Fourth row: Wendall Holt, Richard Hanna, Newell Hensley, Eugene Parker, Arnold Hacker, Kenneth Young.

Smith's Smilers

Home room 30 is composed of twenty-nine members, each taking part in the activities of the room. We have several committees, one of which is the House-keeping Committee. Its duty is to keep the room in good order and to keep the bulletin board neat and attractive. The Attendance Committee leads the race for better attendance. The Program Committee furnishes the entertainment for the morning period. We have several minor committees, also, who have smaller duties.

Our morning programs have been very interesting this year. They have included class discussion, stories and poems told by the class, and business meetings.

Officers for the second semester are: president, Maxine Buchanan; vice-president, Bob Dixon; secretary, Ruth Douglas; treasurer, Irvin Dillon; and librarian, Ruth Bange.

Our representative for the Student Council is Maxine Buchanan.

Front row: Left to right: Olaf Baker, Charles Bass, James Barrick, Stewart Cohn, Doovid Barskin, Clarence Arthur, Vernon Brady.

Second row: Marjorie Bolin, Virginia Brown, Lucille Anderson, Laura F. Cunningham, Elizabeth Coffman, Imogene Barnes, Pauline Akers, Mr. Colvin.

Third row: Mervin Carman, Warren Cohen, Charles Cure, Betty Jean Cramer, Mary Ellen Cramer, Emily Brasier.

Fourth row: Joseph Arthur, Eugene Carroll, William Burpo, Silas Bland, Horace Adams, Harry Burleigh, Winston Churchill.

Colvin's Companions

There are twenty-seven pupils in home room 41. Martha Tackitt, a senior, has charge of our home room since Mr. Colvin has to be in the bookstore.

The officers are James Barrick, president; Virginia Brown, secretary; and Laura Fae Cunningham, attendance officer.

We have had three programs. The first one was on Armistice Day and consisted of the following talks: "Before the World War"—Mervin Carman; "When the Armistice was Signed"—Emilee Brasier; "After the Signing of the Armistice"—Marjorie Bolin; Poem—Horace Adams.

At the Thanksgiving program, each of us told the things we were thankful for. Several poems were given at Christmas, and each one told what he most wanted for Christmas. Since then, we have had no programs, but we have had several interesting things brought up for discussion.

We elected James Barrick as Student Council representative.

Potter's Pests

Home room 43 smacks of newness — twenty-seven new students, new paint, new curtains, and a new teacher. Various members have exerted themselves to make this room cheerful and comfortable in spite of its newness. Flowers were brought by Mary Flora Wilson, decorations by Norma Whitesell, Lou Ann Wilson, and Mary Shireman. The latter's gift was a handsome calendar on a shield, which looks more like an IHSAA award than a repository for the days of the month.

Room 43's organization has brought forth presidents, Frank Winninger and Mary Claire Welch, vice-president Leo Vesemier, and secretary-treasurers Lou Ann Wilson and Mary Flora Wilson. Leo is, also, the Student Council representative. The committees consist of Good Housekeeping, Health, Decorating, Program, and Good Manners. The local Lord Chesterfield, James Whitesell, was elected junior member of the last named committee. The sponsor is Mr. Ralph Potter.

Front row: Left to right: Marshall Stevens, Henry Goss, Charles Smith, Frank Wininger, Billy Moran, John Tackitt, Leo Vesemeyer, Eugene Secrest.

Second row: Ruby Tumey, Ruth Stiles, Norma Whitesell, Evelyn Stewart, Thelma Underwood, Mary Flora Wilson, Mr. Potter.

Third row: Mary Shireman, Mary Claire Welch, Lou Ann Wilson, Maxine Whaley, Marguerite Sparks, James Smith, James Springer.

Fourth row: James Whitesell, Warren Tedrow, Raymond Stevens, Ralph Watson, Robert Stewart.

Moore's Monitors

The above picture shows home room 45 of which Mr. Moore is the teacher. Officers elected at the first of the year were: president, Robert Johnston; vice-president, Ross Kelso; secretary, Helen Granholt; treasurer, Ralph Jones; librarian, Billy Hardwick; attendance officer, Mary E. Hendricks.

Our representative to the Student Council is Nancy Anne Finney.

Programs were given for Thanksgiving and Christmas by various members of the room.

Three of our members, Nancy Finney, Helen Granholt, and Mary Elizabeth Hendricks, belong to the Junior News gathering staff.

Doris Hubbard, Lucille Hickman, Nancy Finney, Helen Granholt, and Mary E. Hendricks, belong to the Junior High Girls' Glee Club. Willard Forbes, Ross Kelso, and Wayne Haase are members of the Junior High Boys' Glee Club.

Front row: Left to right, Charles Fultz, Charles Holder, Charles Finney, James Gardner, Ralph Jones, Junior Frounfelter, Floyd Denny.

Second row: Nancy Finney, Alice Hammonds, Helen Davee, Mary E. Hendricks, Mary E. Edwards, Lucille Hickman, Doris Hubbard, Hazel Dillender.

Third row: Thelma Gray, Eloise Hacker, Mary C. Hopper, Josephine Knoy, Ruby Lee, Anna May Gray, Ruth Cure, Ernestine Hamilton.

Fourth row: Helen Granholt, Dorothy Kent, Pearl Fox, Genevieve Piercefield, Bernice Hacker, John Bray, Mr. Moore.

Fifth row: Wayne Haase, Bob Johnson, William Hardwick, Ross Kelso, James Glover, Floyd Hacker, Willard Forbes.

Gray's Grabbers

The officers of room 44 are as follows: president, Jerome Scheidler; vice-president, Charles Neal; secretary-treasurer, Martha Neal; representative to Student Council, Jerome Scheidler. The committee chairmen are: Program, Charles Neal; Conduct, Charles Miller; Attendance, Hubert Scheidler; House Keeping, Lucille Murphy; Bulletin Board, Mary Grace Mosier.

Some discussions of interest were: Hobbies, Current Events, Most Interesting Experiences, and a discussion on a basketball code.

We also had a discussion on Personality Characteristics. Some of the main ones were: Cooperation; Dependability; Honesty; Courtesy; and Promptness.

Two of the members of our home room went to the "Century of Progress" at Chicago. They told of the interesting things they saw there.

Front row: Left to right: Charles Miller, Hubert Scheidler, Anson Parker, Henry McFarland, Leroy Salters, Lester Richardson, James Scott.

Second row: Lola Quackenbush, Betty Powell, Lucille Murphy, Dorothy Schoolcraft, Thelma Pennington, Bessie Reynolds, Miss Gray.

Third row: Mary Grace Mosier; Mary E. Mohler, Martha Newman, Mima Jane McDaniel, Mary Meadows, Martha Neal.

Fourth row: Alva McKee, Gerald Royal, John Pettit, Hugh Scales, Charles Minton, Jerome Scheidler, Lawrence Parker.

Row one: Left to right: France Baker, Frank Anderson, Frank Tut-trow, Milford Cunningham, Paul Wat-son, Lawrence Mulder, Leroy Briggs, Allen Hemphill.

Row two: Mrs. Whitaker, Georgia Ham, Grace Griffith, Betsy Jane Breedlove, Ruby Brown, Ruth Green-wood, Irene Walls, Fatima Lazell, Mary Walls.

Row three: James Kirkendoll, Ber-nice Bolin, Kermit Royal, Charles Leitzman, Jerry Kaylor, Paul Sloan, Melvin Clark.

Whitaker's Whisperers

For the past four years Mrs. Whitaker has had charge of the opportunity room. This room is being conducted for the benefit of students who need special attention and individual aid.

Each year the students in this room organize themselves into a civics club. The chief purpose of this club is to create an interest in community and school problems and thus develop a better attitude toward the public in general.

The officers for this year are: Paul Watson, president; Jerry Kaylor, vice-president; Melvin Clark, secretary-treasurer. The standing committees are health, program, and housekeeping. The program committee has been very active in planning programs for special days.

There are twenty-five students in the room this year. The representative to the Student Council is Allen Hemphill, with Kermit Royal as alternate.

Kivett's Kids

Room 48 is composed of a group of 29 students of the eighth grade. This room has chosen two committees: namely, the Health and Program Committees, both of which are made up of a chairman and three members. The chairmen are Robert Powell and Joe Prewitt, to whose efforts the success of these committees is greatly due. The secretary of the room is Betty Parker. This home room has elected as their representative to the Student Council, Opal Neal.

At Christmas time the room made a Christmas basket. Each student brought an article of food, and some money was donated to buy the meat for Christmas dinner. The basket was given to a poor family.

The students of this room have maintained a high percentage of attendance all through the school year. The home room sponsor is Miss Mae Kivett.

Front row: Left to right: Cecil Long, Clinton Martin, George Percy, Frederick Payton, Robert Powell, Charles Myers, Jessie Quackenbush.

Second row: Geneva Reynolds, Clara May Pennington, Marjorie Moss, Marjorie Lingle, Margaret Pryor, Ruth Quackenbush, Marjorie Mansfield.

Third row: Maxine Norman, Leora Pierce, Nancy Nash, Joan Northern, Irene Myers, Juanita Payton, Elizabeth Parker.

Fourth row: Miss Kivett, Louise Downey, Forest Marshall, Jessie Martin, Joe Prewitt.

Margaret Johnston

Front row: Left to right: Leon Brummett, Harold Martindale, Ralph Knight, Maynard Manley, Ray LaFary, Francis Leach, Charles Long.

Second row: Juanita Kelly, Louise Major, Sanoma Maxwell, Amy Knight, Margaret Johnston, Josephine James, Patricia Houston, Miss Dorsett.

Third row: Ruth Jones, Erna Loehr, Martha Kelley, Pearl Lester, Jo Ann Isenhower, Betty James, Frances Martin.

Fourth row: Mary Hovious, Geneva McDaniel, Grace Husk, Beryl Lester, Mildred Martin, Virginia James, Mary Laffoon, Bertille LeMen.

Dorsett's Darlings

Home room 27, under the direction of presidents, Louise Major, Bertille Le Men, and Ralph Knight, has worked diligently during the year.

Our presidents, who are elected each six weeks, have directed us according to parliamentary procedure, and we have gained a great deal of experience in conducting and participating in a business meeting.

Projects during the year have been on health, literature, current topics, charity, and student development. The two most interesting discussions were on the Honor Society and the Student Council. Since we had discussed the Student Council, we were delighted when it was organized. Bertille Le Men is our representative.

Our home room has sought to create active interest in health, scholarship, and good citizenship.

Calvin's Comrades

Room 49 was organized in September with Mr. Calvin as teacher. Officers for the room are elected every six weeks. Present officers are: president, Billy Shane; vice-president, Gene Weddle; secretary, Betty Welch. The program committee is composed of Betty Troutman, chairman, Kathleen Shuler, and Billy Shane.

At the first of the year a constitution committee, with Bob Scherer as chairman, wrote a constitution for the room.

For a part of the year our room used activity sheets. We have also had several discussions, including a series of discussions on, "How to Keep Our Room Clean." These discussions have proven very interesting as well as beneficial.

Mr. Calvin has also told us some interesting things about his travels and about his experiences while in the Philippines.

Front row: Left to right: James Sawyer, Robert Scherer, Billy Shane, Eugene Weddle, Betty Welch, Betty Troutman, Irvin Voiles, Herschel Stiles.

Second row: Betty Sims, Joan St. John, Opal Skaggs, Kathleen Roberts, Kathleen Shuler, Eleanor Wood, Glendyn Youngen, Martha Jewett, Mr. Calvin.

Third row: Orman Schoolcraft, Dee Young, Roy Rankin, John Schnaiter, Robert Willan, Pauline Vibert, Mary Frances Townsend, Gladys Thacker.

Fourth row: Jack Williams, Delbert Skaggs, Earl Troxell, Paul Sloan, Howard Stanley, Hubert Phillips.

