VARSIITY

INDIVIDUALS

We take great pride in congratulating the 1939-1940 edition of the Artesians and their coach for the fine record that they have hung up this season. Besides a very impressive record of 20 victories against 6 losses, the Artesians had the highest offensive average of any team in the state.

HENRY PERCY has followed closely the foot prints of his brother. He, too, proved to be the backbone of the Artesians, one of the leading scorers, outstanding rebound man, and captain of the varsity for two years. His graduation will leave a gap hard to fill.

GUY SMITH'S outstanding characteristics were his ability to get points when they were needed and his determined drive that has penetrated many defensive lines. "Hap", teamed along with Percy, formed the nucleus of the team's scoring ability.

BOB ROWLAND played exceptionally good ball in the pivot and also showed his ability to rebound. He should cause many a nightmare to next year's enemies for he is only a Junior.

FOREST DECKER, probably the fastest man on the team, proved effective in working the ball down the floor on fast breaks and also held his own as a defensive man. He, too, is only a Junior.

BILL WOODEN, although not a scoring ace, was one of the important factors in M. H. S.'s successful season. He was the best defensive man on the team and could always be counted on to limit the opponent's chief scorer to a few points.

BILL NUTTER, chief reliefman, played good ball when he was substituted into the line-up. He probably played his best game early in the season against Anderson.

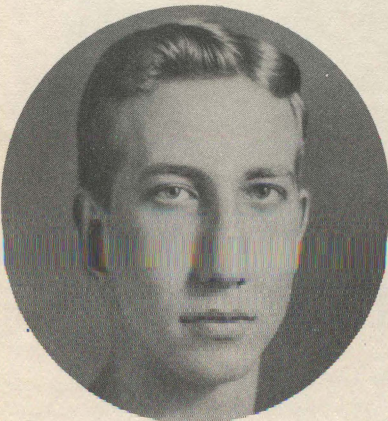

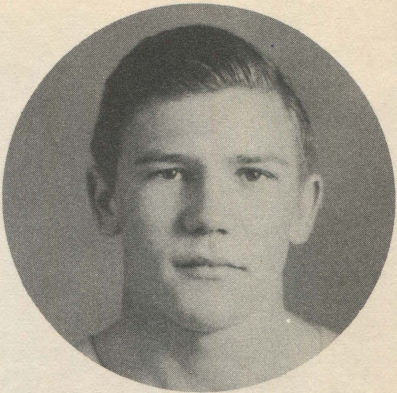

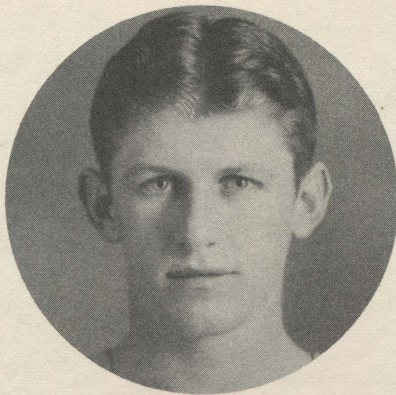

GERALD WILLIAMS was of greater value to his team than some people thought. Although he didn't star in the scheduled games, he was always at practice to provide tough opposition for the varsity.

CHARLES McCORMICK became ineligible in February. However, Mac played good ball up to that time as a substitute. The loss of Mac's height and shooting ability as well as his spirit was deeply regretted.

FLOYD PRESTON, leader of the reserve team, could always be depended on to do his part. He played his best game with the varsity against Bloomington when three regulars were on the sidelines with colds.

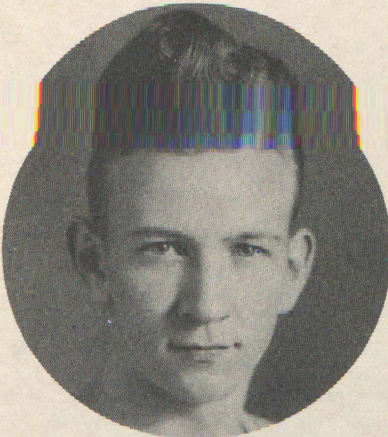

AUSTIN GRAY was the best long shot on the reserve team. He has surprised many opponents by throwing in long ones from behind the line.
